

School of Allied Health
UNIVERSITY of ALASKA ANCHORAGE

Program Coordinator/Assistant or Associate Professor Fire & Emergency Services Program
Full time, nine month, term position

The University of Alaska Anchorage College of Health
School of Allied Health
Fire and Emergency Services program, provides entry-level knowledge and skills for students planning a career in Fire and Emergency Services, as well as knowledge and skills for the career firefighter. The Associate of Applied Science Degree includes a technical core which follows the National Fire Academy's Fire and Emergency Service Higher Education's model core curriculum for two-year degree programs.

For more information and to view job description please visit www.uakjobs.com and search for posting number 0062294.